

POSTAL BANK RATE MAY BE DOUBLED; GENERAL HAYES HOPES TO DRAW OUT HOARDED MILLION.

SULLIVAN, Ind., July 4.—Postmaster-General Hayes says the government is profiteering against postal savings depositors by not giving enough interest. His plan is approved by banks with whom he does not expect to compete.

Private banks are not and cannot hope to reach the vast hoarded wealth which offers a particular field for postal savings expansion, Mr. Hayes said. He pointed out that 70 per cent of the present 508,000 depositors are of foreign extraction, and that they as well as others of their countrymen who are accustomed to postal savings systems abroad will trust to one but the U. S. government.

To reach this field of potential depositors, Mr. Hayes plans the following basic changes in the postal savings system:

1. Increase the interest from 2 to 3 per cent.
2. Payment of interest on deposits held less than one year.
3. Removal of the restrictions

THE NEW ORLEANS CANAL.

By the way of the Mississippi river the city of New Orleans is fully a hundred miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and yet the salt water in Pontchartrain is only six miles away. The city has long dreamed of a ship canal that should connect the river with the lake. It would shorten the distance to the gulf by forty miles, and give a waterway into the heart of the city at a fixed level, instead of the fluctuating level offered by the Mississippi. Three years ago, under the stimulus of war activity, the Inner Harbor Industrial canal was begun. Today it is virtually finished. It is a great enterprise, worthy of a great city, and certain to add to the prosperity and wealth of the Southern metropolis. The canal is about 6 miles long, is from 300 to 410 feet wide and 30 feet deep. It has cost about $20,000,000, more than one-third of which was required for the great concrete ship lock where the canal and the river meet. Digging the canal through the low-lying cypress forest between the city and Lake Pontchartrain presented no peculiar engineering difficulties, though the tangled mass of fallen and rotten tree trunks beneath the surface was not easy to penetrate. But the lock was a different matter. It had to rest on a soil that is full of quicksand and marsh gas, and some engineers believed it could not be built. But steel sheet piling kept the quicksand out of the excavation, and artesian wells relieved the gas pressure. Then the 14,000 piles were driven into the bottom, and upon them the great lock, which contains 100,000 cubic yards of concrete and against depositors under ten years of age.

4. Provisions for joint and trust funds.
5. Establishment of postal savings banks in 50,000 postoffices instead of the present 6,300.
6. Compensation for fourth class postmasters on the basis of the deposits they handle.
7. Redeposit of the funds in local banks with more liberal qualifications for such depositors.
8. An enlarged board of directors including a representative of the Federal Reserve Bank and possibly one or more civilians.

The postmaster-general declared that the hundreds of thousands of postal savings depositors are being defrauded because their certificate specifically state that 2 per cent interest is paid on deposits and do not state that nothing is paid on deposits held less than one year. Because of this system, he said, the average interest paid on all money held was only 1 1/2 per cent.

Absent-Minded.

Professor X, a very absent-minded man was being shaved by the barber. After the occupation he continued to occupy the chair, and the barber thinking he had dozed off, said, "Asleep sir?"

The professor started. "Bless me, no," he exclaimed, "I am not asleep. The fact is that I am frightfully lightsighted. When I took my glasses off I was no longer able to see myself in the mirror opposite and naturally I supposed I had already gone home."—Boston Transcript.

8000 tons of reinforcing steel, was built. Beneath the Industrial Canal runs the great drainage system that is to take the sewage of the city out into Lake Borgne and reclaim the beautiful shores of Lake Pontchartrain for the residential and suburban use for which they are naturally well fitted.

Shipyards, factories and warehouses are already rising along the banks of the canal. The river front of the city is wholly owned by the city and cannot be leased, but no such restriction applies to the Industrial Canal, and it is certain that, great commercial city will grow up beside it. Before the canal is quite ready for the great ships that are to use it a uniform channel will have to be dredged out through Lake Pontchartrain, the Rigolets and Lake Borgne, to the open Gulf beyond. When that is done the people of New Orleans believe with reason that their city will enter on a new period of growth and prosperity.—Youth's Companion.

NEW YORKERS IN WED. PARADE; DECLARE THEY WANT 18TH AMENDMENT ACT REPEALED NOW.

NEW YORK, July 5.—A great many New Yorkers let the world know yesterday that they bear no love for the eighteenth amendment. Several thousand of them raised a terrific thrumming up Fifth Avenue in an anti-prohibition demonstration and others packed the sidewalks for more than two miles to cheer them. It was called a wet parade and it was wet—soaking wet with perspiration.

The native born addressed the Mayor blatantly and intimately and every now and then somebody would loudly inquire if his honor didn't long for a schooner of lagar on such a hot day.

Some of the marchers bore banners which called on all to witness the outrage on personal liberty against which they persisted in protesting. Many women and children were in line.

Placards, in a manner speaking, put the kick into the parade. One placard read "Prohibition took the sunshine from our homes and put moonshine in." Another said: "Russia went dry in 1919 and mad in 1921. How rational do you feel yourself?" A third declared: "Four million soldiers fought for liberty and were rewarded with prohibition. How come?"

The serious signs asked everybody to notice what alcoholic aridity had done to the American merchant marine.

They suggested Bible reading as a means of learning who made wine from water that wedding feast might be merry, and the biblical line "Use a little wine for thy stomach's sake was also quoted.

There were pictures of the Last Supper and of the Goddess of Liberty, shorn of her prosaic pose by shackles that bound her arms together. Some of the banners urged the people to take the parade and the sentiment it represented with seriousness, explaining that the marchers wanted the 18th amendment repealed and the Volstead act "liberalized" and furthermore, that they were going to fight for that cause.

Several thousand persons paraded along Hudson street yesterday in New Jersey's first organized protest against the Vann Ness state prohibition enforcement act.

NEW COMPANY FORMED AND PURCHASES "STOKOE" WHARF.

Company Headed by A. Batistella Purchases Property of Bay Sea Food Company and Operates Pleasure Pavilion.

A number of progressive and minded residents of Bay St. Louis recently organized a corporation, to be known as the Yacht Club Amusement Company, and as the first step of their plans have purchased the long wharf and pier at the head of Washington street, from the corporation known as the Bay Sea Food Company, and practically personally owned by A. L. Stokoe. The property is better known as Stokoe's Wharf, and extends out into the waters of the sound for a distance of 1300 feet.

The transfer took place a few days since and the new company is in active ownership of the property, and is operating it as a bathing pier and pleasure pavilion. Mr. E. J. Arceneaux, one of the stockholders and directors of the new company, is in charge of the enterprise. This property, until the transfer was made, was operated as a pleasure pavilion by Alcee Carver, who had made quite a success of the enterprise.

The Yacht Club Amusement Co. is composed of the following, all representative and well-known gentlemen: A. Batistella, president; Jules Menou, vice president; C. L. Block, general manager; A. V. Decote, secretary-treasurer; August Schiro, director; A. O. Bordelon, chairman of the board of directors; E. J. Arceneaux, acting manager.

These gentlemen have extensive plans, but these cannot be put into execution for this season. The summer is too short. However, during the winter, extensive alterations and improvements will be in progress and the place in readiness for next spring.

Among the improvements it is proposed to build a dance platform sufficiently large to accommodate 150 couples, and the bathing pavilion will contain 80 separate private compartments.

Bay St. Louis as a summer resort has long been in need of such a pier. It is certain the Company will receive a liberal patronage and their pier and pavilion will easily become the most popular place on the coast. There are other improvements and innovations planned, but for the present these are not given out. The gentlemen composing the Yacht Club Amusement Company are to be commended for their enterprise and should be rewarded with unbounded success. They are well-known and successful business men, and that they are at the head of this enterprise is a guarantee of its success.

REVENUE AGENTS GO AFTER TAX DODGERS; SOFT DRINK, MEDICAL GOODS SPECIAL TARGETS.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Special squads of tax experts, acting under orders from Commissioner Blair of the Internal Revenue Bureau today were engaged in an investigation in all revenue districts of the United States to detect and punish tax evaders among dealers in soft drink and toilet and medical goods. Picked men from all collectors' offices were sent out with instructions to apprehend all tax dealers who refuse to furnish all tax returns and to arrange for the arrest and prosecution of others in this class, guilty of violations for failure to make either returns or tax payments.

Officials of the revenue bureau announced tonight the campaign will net several million dollars to the government in delinquent taxes. Officials plan to make a big haul of tax violators. When penalties and extra assessments are computed, estimated the government's back taxes from the source will be greatly increased. Since the summer season began complaints to revenue collectors have shown dealers generally have not made accurate returns on soda fountain sales, as a result of faulty cash register methods.

Commissioner Blair directs the revenue inspectors to compel dealers and retailers to install equipment such as separate cash registers in which tax collected on drinks or other preparations falling under this classification may be deposited and that separate receipts be kept in all establishments of earnings and tax collected.

Inspectors have reported to Commissioner Blair willful violations by some of the largest establishments, including some of the chain store companies.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Osoinach Entertain.

Among the Fourth of July entertainments was a Bon Fire Party given by Mr. and Mrs. C. Osoinach, in honor of their children, Billy and Kathleen. Refreshments were served on the lawn the previous to lighting the fires and displaying the fireworks on the beach.

Among the children present were: Rene de Montluzin, E. J. Lacoste, Jessely Benson, Alvin Genin, Forest Flick, Junior Flick, Bobbie Lacoste, Yvonne Lacoste, Lee Battle, Jack Battle, Winfield Partridge, Anthony Glover, Junior Glover, and many others.

Everybody knows Billy and Kathleen, popular with their companions, and loved by all who know them. Their party was quite a success, and an event of the Fourth. They enjoyed themselves immensely, so did their little friends, who were present, and this "Fourth of July party" will ever remain a bright spot of their young lives.

HARRISON PLAYS REPUBLICANS FOR ITS SEPARATE PEACE WITH GERMAN

(Gulfport Daily Herald.)

A welcome visitor in Gulfport Tuesday was Senator Harrison who stopped over for a short while en route to Washington. He came out of New Orleans where he made a splendid address yesterday at the American Legion festival at the Fair Grounds.

The Senator appeared in good health and was sought by scores who wanted to shake hands with him and congratulate him on the fine record which he is making in the upper chamber. The Senator can always make sure of one thing and that is his home town standing behind him.

The Senator spoke interestingly of political conditions in Washington saying that the Republicans were finding difficulty in redeeming their pre-election pledges. When asked about the separate peace resolution signed by the President Saturday the Senator became serious and said that it would redound to the shame of the nation. "It was an unjustifiable betrayal of the Allies in the late war," he said, "and a treasonable violation of every obligation that the Government owes the splendid fighting men who brought victory to our arms and glory to our country." It means separate peace with Germany, something that no public man in America would have the audacity to suggest during the war.

It was amusing to see the Republican leaders trying to steer the resolution through the House and Senate last Friday so as to have it signed by the President before July 4th. The resolution after passing the Senate the signature of the Speaker and then back to the Senate to receive the signature of the Vice President.

Senator Harrison will return to Washington at once where he will remain for a greater part of the summer being member of two Congressional Commissions, charged with important work. One is the Commission to investigate agricultural conditions with a view of bettering the condition of the farmer, and the other which will look into the reorganization of certain government departments.

DEVORE

MARBLE FLOOR FINISH

The woman who takes pride in her home insists on well-varnished floors.

POUNDED, scuffed, kicked, banged a thousand times a day, the floor gets more use—and abuse—than anything in the house!

Surely, it needs real protection, for a worn floor spoils a beautiful room; a hard-to-clean floor endangers health.

No wonder Devore Marble Floor Varnish is popular with careful housewives! It fills the pores and coats the wood with a glossy finish, making a surface easily cleaned with broom and mop; durable, sanitary, protecting the wood; beautifying the room.

DEVORE PRODUCTS are time-tested and proven—backed by 166 years' experience of the oldest paint manufacturing concern in the U.S. Founded 1754.

Official Journal of Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

CITY ECHOES.

—Mr. Leon. Granjean, publicity director for the Saenger Amusement Company, at New Orleans, spent Sunday and Monday at Elmwood, and visited Bay St. Louis friends.

—Miss Virginia Henry, of Jackson, Miss., summering near Gulfport, was the guest of Bay St. Louis friends Monday and attended the Fourth of July celebration at Elmwood Manor.

—Mrs. H. S. Weston, of Logtown, left during the week with relatives for an extensive trip to the far West, including a visit to Los Angeles, San Francisco and as far as Seattle, Washington.

—Mrs. Harry J. Ugham, of Springfield, Mo., is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. H. Boulas and sister, Mrs. Donald Marshall, at their home in Boardman avenue, and will remain for an indefinite period.

—Delightful visitors to Bay St. Louis for the Fourth of July week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Lacoste, of New Orleans, who were the house guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, and family, on the beach front.

—Mrs. Claud Monti, Mrs. Alma Quintini and children, and Mr. M. Parilla have returned from a four-day visit to Mobile, Ala., and vicinity. The trip was made in their big Buick car without shifting a gear and proved most enjoyable in every way.

—Mr. Joseph P. McGinn, prominently connected with the naval stores business, with headquarters at Laurel, Miss., is spending his vacation in Bay St. Louis, visiting wife and babies who are summering with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McGinn, on the beach front.

—Mrs. E. W. Sistrunk and children, Joseph and Ann, have returned from a delightful visit of two weeks to Mrs. Sistrunk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson, at Brookville, Florida. Mrs. Sistrunk's return is warmly welcomed by her many friends.

—Mr. Leo Heymann is the young guest of his friends, Messrs. Emmett and Horace Kergosien at the family home in Carroll avenue. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Heymann are planning to leave on a sea trip to New York City and other points East, to be gone several weeks, and their son is here on his vacation.

—A J. Bilbo, brother of the ex-Governor, residing at Caesar, this county, was the victim of an automobile accident Tuesday that injured him about the head and face considerably. His car unavoidably went off its course and struck a pole in Main street, with damage to the car and splitting the pole. Local physicians attended the injured.

—Although no extensive improvements are planned for the immediate season, the Yacht Club Amusement Company has a force of workmen on its property at the head of Washington street, enlarging the pier accommodations for pleasure seekers. The pier is exceedingly popular and every afternoon and evening crowds congregate in pleasure and pastime.

—As will be seen from the official proceedings of the City Council, found on page 3 of this issue of The Echo, that body has adopted an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for any one to build or operate a gate swinging outlandishly over sidewalk, street or lane, which is to be commended. It is now unlawful for any property owner to have a gate swinging on the outside, punishable by a fine of not more than $50.00 or imprisonment.

—Mr. Gerald Kennedy, while driving his brand new Buick car a few evenings since lost control of his car and it was carried over the beach embankment, damaging the car to a point of almost seriously wrecking it. Fortunately none of the occupants were seriously injured or save for a severe shaking up, Mr. Kennedy is a splendid driver and as to how the accident occurred is unaccountable.

—William C. Sick, well-known young man and representing the First Ward on the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, has gone into the mercantile business, and is located on the corner of Leonard and Dumbard avenues. In addition to a general grocery stock he will also carry an extensive line of notions, etc. Mr. Sick is a progressive and wide-awake young man, and his enterprise is deserving of meeting with much success.

—The recreation pavilion, built by J. A. Wisner on the beach front opposite his dwelling is about completed and one of the handsome buildings that ornament the front drive way. In fact there is nothing like it on the east side of the drive and it is admired by all who see it. It was built not only at a considerable extent, but with much thought and taste. The roof garden admits of dancing and will no doubt be the scene of many private affairs this season.

—The R. J. Williams lot, corner Front street and Carroll avenue, was sold Wednesday morning to A. Battistella, of this city, for a cash consideration of $5,000. Mr. Battistella in turn sold it to his friend and neighbor, P. V. Lacoste, who was quite desirous of the property since it adjoined his home and would give him an entrance from Carroll avenue. Mr. Lacoste now owns the entire front of the square along the beach front, between Ullman and Carroll avenue, and gives him a magnificent place.

DENTIST.

—The Fourth, falling on a Monday, as it did last year, gave the city vacationists two days for a week-end trip to the seashore that seldom come together. The result is that thousands of visitors flock to the Coast this year, and Bay St. Louis and waveand received more than their quota. The crowds poured out on all trains leaving New Orleans Saturday afternoon and evening, where the Gulf breezes, wafting in the Gulf waters, the insect arroyways in the South along the shore, and through the piney woods that beckon all the year around. The visitors were for a time at least, taking in all that nature has to give and away for once—a respite as it were—from alarm clocks, lunch hour, urduley car, sleepless nights and the outside, grime of the big city. It is all wonderful this get-away, for those who will "get up" and "git."

—Local friends of Mr. Liechtenstein will learn with interest that he is having constructed a new power plant that is the very last word in just construction, and that for beauty and appointment that will exceed anything in Southern waters, this season. The plant is to rest from day to night and a width that will permit room for many accommodations and new conveniences; the saloon is to be finished in the latest of wood and roomy for dancing and other forms of entertainment. In the meantime Mr. Liechtenstein is using his famous "know-how," awaiting the delivery of his handsome new boat, which will be delivered some time early in the season. The cost is approximately $10,000.

—E. J. Bowers suffered a painful experience Saturday night when a time gave his family great uneasiness, says the Gulfport Herald. A package of food lodged in his throat, which he could neither force up nor down, almost choking him. Fortunately, the medical continues, Dr. Anderson had recently obtained from New York an instrument especially for such purposes and was able to remove the obstruction and give much needed relief. His throat is sore, but will soon be in normal condition. The many Bay St. Louis friends and guests will regret to learn of the trying experience of Mr. Bowers.

—The sixteenth annual Fourth of July day at the Bay St. Louis Woodmen of the World, given at their hall on Monday night, was both a social and financial success. The Woodmen's balls are always largely attended and among the most enjoyable affairs given. This year's ball was no exception. The camp is in a flourishing condition, and has an ever-increasing membership and has plenty of cash in the treasury, with no debts. It is one of the best camps in the state in point of membership and activity, and is among the oldest organizations in the city.

—The number of visitors who flocked out of New Orleans Saturday afternoon for the Mississippi Gulf Coast is told in part by the fact that the L. & N. sold 2713 tickets for coast points. This does not include the many who ride on mileage and railroad books. There were three sections of excursion train Sunday morning for which 1,800 tickets were sold, including family tickets it is safe to estimate, and a conservative one at that, that five thousand people from New Orleans alone visited the Coast for the week-end. And the summer season is yet young.

—Bob Wesley, the precious little son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Taylor, was knocked down by a moving automobile Saturday evening, which bruised him considerably and will leave his face scarred for some time. The child had a miraculous escape, and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are grateful that the little life was spared them. Innumerable telephone messages that night and the many callers at the residence the next day by solicitous friends, who showed their deep concern evinces the popularity and esteem in which the couple is held in the community.

—Mrs. George R. Rea left Tuesday morning for Wesson and Greenville, Miss., where she will spend the next two weeks visiting relatives, at the end of which she will be joined by Mr. Rea for a trip to Chicago, Ill., where they have a reservation at the Congress Hotel. Mr. Rea will attend the biennial convocation of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, of which organization he is the national treasurer, an honor and trust of no mean proportions, but on the contrary, a most coveted recognition, and of which he is most worthy.

—Misses Carrie and Irwina. Lorch, attractive and accomplished daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lorch, will leave tomorrow on an extensive summer trip, through the Canadian Rockies and to Vancouver, British Columbia. Before returning home they will visit Yellowstone National Park, where they expect to spend a while. Their itinerary includes some of the most attractive parts of the West.

—The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Ansley and family will learn with interest and pleasure that their daughter, Miss Willie Dill, who underwent a surgical operation some time since, and who, for awhile, was at death's very doors, is able to be out again, and it is hoped she will soon be again with her companions participating in their social and outdoor activities.

—Misses Miriam and Levia Engman have returned from Fairhope, Ala., and vicinity, where they were the house guests of friends. The young ladies were the honorees of one round of pleasures while visiting. They have many friends among the summer colony at the famous Alabama resorts, and their visits there are always a source of delight.

—Mr. John Osoinach took occasion of the Fourth of July holiday and spent the day in New Orleans, where he has many social and business friends.

—Miss Ruth Boyer, who has been visiting Mrs. Robert Bowers, is about to leave for her home in Logtown.

FOURTH CELEBRATED AT ELMWOOD MANOR.

Saenger Amusement Company Entertained Number of Employees and Guests at Barbecue Monday.

The recreation home of the Saenger Amusement Company, at New Orleans, located in "Bay St. Louis," was the scene of a barbecue last Monday in celebration of the Fourth of July.

There were about one hundred and fifty people present. Early during the morning hours the great pit of concrete for the purpose of sawing the meat was in operation and over the coals iron specially selected narrowwood. This task always falls to that master of barbecue cooking, Mr. Boring, one of the officials of the company, and that he was again present for this occasion is a sufficient guarantee that the viands were deliciously cured in their own juices over the pit of live coals.

Long tables were set under the wide-spreading oaks, and about one o'clock the feast was in full swing. In addition to the barbecued meats there were many relishes, salads and other good things to eat and much to drink. The officials of the Saenger Amusement Company, with E. V. Richards as general and chief managing executive, never do anything but the best. There is never anything lacking, and the one chief in charge seems to be in the fact that the pleasure and comfort of the visiting employee, representing from time to time, over 200 theatres in the South, is never overlooked. This occasion was no exception. There was plenty to eat and the selection and the quality was on a par with the lavish quantity, and it was evident that those in immediate charge felt amply repaid for their efforts by the satisfaction they afforded those who were guests.

Mrs. Boyer, the matron, who seemingly forgets nothing, overlooks nobody and gives individual attention with all the attending niceties of that courteous and solicitous spirit of hers, was one of the chiefs of the day.

In addition to the many who are spending their vacation at the manor, there were a number of local and outside newspaper people and others invited for the day to partake of the lavish hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Richards representing Messrs. Saenger Bros., who are in New York for the present.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE.

State of Mississippi, County of Hancock.

WHEREAS, the Circuit Court of Jackson County, Miss., has heretofore rendered its judgment in cause No. 2355 on the General Docket of said court, in favor of the State of Mississippi, and against William K. Fayard, principal, and D. R. Fayard, and Carl Marshall, Sureties, on a certain bond of said William K. Fayard in the sum of Two Hundred (200) Dollars and costs of Court, and

WHEREAS, the said Circuit Court has heretofore rendered another judgment in Cause No. 2326 on the General Docket of said Court in favor of the City of Pascagoula and against William K. Fayard, principal, and D. R. Fayard, and Carl Marshall, sureties, upon a certain bond of the said William K. Fayard, in the sum of Two Hundred ($200) Dollars and costs of Court, and

WHEREAS, two writs of execution have been issued to me as Sheriff of Hancock County, Miss., by said Circuit Court, directing me to cause to be made out of the goods and chattels of said parties, the amount of both of said judgments, together with said interests and costs of Court, and

WHEREAS, in pursuance of the mandate of said execution I have levied both of said writs of execution upon, and seized and taken possession of those lands belonging to the said D. R. Fayard, situated, lying and being in the County of Hancock and State of Mississippi, described as follows, to-wit:

Lot one, (1) of the Division of the Francois Favre estate, being part of the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 14, of Township 9, South, Range 14 West, containing fourteen and one-half (14 1/2) acres, as per plat of said Division of said estate made by the Surveyor, E. S. Drake, and filed for record in the office of the Clerk of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Miss., on March fifth, 1913; said land being bounded upon the north by the half section line, upon the east by the east half of the southeast quarter of said section four (4), upon the south by lot two (2) of said Division, now assessed to Mrs. Victoria Fayard Henry, and upon the west by the lands of Charles Fricke.

NOW, WHEREFORE, in compliance with the mandate of said writs of execution, and in order to make the amount of said judgments, together with interests and costs of Court out of the goods and chattels of said D. R. Fayard, I, as Sheriff of Hancock County, Miss., will sell said lands during lawful hours before the front door of the courthouse of Hancock County, Miss., in the City of Bay St. Louis, at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash, on Monday, the first day of Aug. 1921.

As witness my signature hereunto, affixed, upon this, the ninth day of July, A. D. 1921.

BANK BY MAIL, SAYS THE HANCOCK COUNTY BANK.

New Feature Put in By Local Bank; Says Every Postoffice is a Branch Bank; Distance No Bar to Business; Bank Shows Additional Enterprise.

As will be seen from advertisement in this issue of The Echo, the Hancock County Bank has inaugurated a new department, and a feature, we feel sure, will be welcomed and appreciated by many living away. The innovation is banking by mail. No matter where you live or how great the distance, that does not bar you from doing business with the Hancock County Bank. Its advertisement says that every postoffice in the county and elsewhere is a branch bank.

The Hancock County Bank has added to its facilities this branch of banking. It wants to take care of the many who live away, thus giving the advantages of banking to one and all. It is very thoughtful, and there is no doubt since the Hancock County Bank is featuring this branch of its business that many will be quick to take advantage. If you live away, try it. A special service and particular attention will be yours.

—Mr. Leo W. Seal, live-wire cashier of the Hancock County bank, accompanied by Mrs. Seal, spent the Fourth of July week-end with relatives at Logtown, where they attended the social doings in celebration of the day.

PROTECTING STEEL WIRE AGAINST RUSTING.

[National Crop Improvement Service.] Fence wire is protected against the elements by a coating of zinc, which when melted, will adhere to perfectly clean untarnished steel.

As the steel wire comes from the smelting kettle of lead, and on each its surface flecks of lead, and on each exposure to air, the steel tarnishes. To correct this condition the wire is run through muriatic acid, which in turn is removed by flushing with water. The wire is now perfectly clean and is rapidly dried by passing over a hot plate and instantly plunged into the kettle of molten zinc.

As the wire emerges from the kettle there is more of the zinc adhering to its sides and bottom than to the top, and in order to make the coating uniform, the wire is wiped by passing it through two balls of soft asbestos held in a frame. The wire is then cooled by winding on reels and is ready for use.

It is very important that the coating of the wires shall be uniform because if it is too thin at any point, the life of the wire is in danger.

SECURE FENCE FABRIC TO LINE POSTS.

[National Crop Improvement Service.] After the wire fabric of a steel fence has been stretched between the end posts, the next process is to fasten it to the line posts.

It is not necessary that all wires of the fence be fastened to support it. A properly constructed fence post has the staples manufactured as part of the posts and they are so spaced that standard fencing will fit them. Fasten the top bar of the fence in the top tongue of the post, drive the tongue well backward over the wire, then fasten as many wires as convenient and the fence will set all right. Three or four at each post is enough. Do not turn the tongues down over the wire unless necessary, and then with the claw of a hammer carefully by degrees.

It is not necessary to make these tongues tight about the wire because it allowed some play, a sudden shock against the wire will distribute itself along the fence instead of the shock being all applied to one section between two posts.

Don't Humor Superstitious Whims. Applications for the renumbering of three houses bearing the fateful number 13 have been declined by the record committee of the London county council.
